

Could you please tell us now in your own words, how you have found Little Scholars as a Pre-School? How were the teachers who looked after your child / children? Was the contact with the Manager a nice experience? And would you recommend Little Scholars to other people who you may or may not know?

Tyler's attitude to life changed completely on his first day at pre-school. Prior to that day he was reluctant to grow up and leave his baby phase behind him. However he took on the role of becoming a little boy with loads to learn and to do he relished every new challenge and new friendships that he made. All this was evidenced by the fact that he never once was reluctant to go to school or to make excuses to avoid going. All this was due to his relationship with his teachers and classmates with credit going to his teachers for making him feel so indispensable in their programme. Before Tyler started his second year at school we were worried in case to get bored having seen it all before. We shouldn't have worried, he had a new role and regarded himself as being a sort of leader whose new function involved helping his teachers. Going by Tyler's experience we would certainly recommend Little Scholars as an ideal place for any child.
