

Could you please tell us now in your own words, how you have found Little Scholars as a Pre-School? How were the teachers who looked after your child / children? Was the contact with the Manager a nice experience? And would you recommend Little Scholars to other people who you may or may not know?

Firstly, I found the safety of how the children enter and exit the building very reassuring, that seems a trivial thing to say but it's not considering the unfortunate incidents which are occurring more in other play schools around the country in recent years regarding children having got "lost" - unnoticed from the premises.

Secondly, I found the teachers handling of the children warm and friendly which you want to know when you've left your child with someone there won't be any impatience, anger or raised voices from the adult, whatever about the child!!

Last but not least important, there is, the beginning of an education here. My little boy regularly comes home with rated work having been done in school of shapes, colours and number exercises on sheets, exactly what a play school should be doing to teach them the basics in preparation for "Senior Infants in Big School".

Personally, I am also stayed by the fact that it's run by a mother, that's a big thing for me, you know, there's automatic compassion there for all children, and I think it allows me to trust the teacher more quickly knowing she's a mother. Thank you excellent play school, well done ps. I also asked Ben what he thought he says "your grate!!!"
love
